News Cull'd for The Progress
by our own correspondents.

KATEPWE.

—Geese are plentiful and quiet ; Mr. Bonycastle shot five at one crack.

—Our rustling teacher seems to have a fancy for horse-dealing. He says he has acquired it all since coming here.

Inspector Grover paid an official visit to these parts last week and expressed himself as well pleased with the state of affairs as found here.

—Some of our citizens went to Indian Head Fair and saw His Excellency and lady. Some of them took prizes at the fair; some for citrons, some for potatoes and some for stock.

BROADVIEW.

—Mr. Richard Beale has gone to Moose Jaw this week.

—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning. It was a very solemn service and seemed to be enjoyed by those present.

—The Rev. Mr. Baker, of the English church, preached a very good thanksgiving sermon last Sunday to a very thin congregation. This ought not to be so. A good sermon is lost on empty seats, but would be useful if the people were there to hear it.

—Senator Hardisty sustained a serious accident a couple of days ago at Broadview, the extent of which is not yet fully known. He was thrown with great violence from a buggy and fell heavily backward upon a stone. It struck him in the small of the back and left him in a helpless condition. He was carried to the town and as the vice-regal party was there, Sir James Grant, who is travelling with it, attended to him. At once discerning that the accident was a serious one Sir James recommended that he should go to the Winnipeg general hospital where proper medical attention could be secured. Accordingly Mr. Hardisty was brought into the city last night and sent in the ambulance to the hospital. He was very tired after the journey and consequently has been all wed up to the present to rest quietly. No examination has been made. His lower extremities are, however, paralysed, and until an examination is made it is difficult to conjecture the exact seriousness of the accident. Dr. Lynch went west to bring him in and is attending the injured Senator.

MOOSOMIN.

—On Wednesday, Mr. Tom Williams took unto himself a wife, the bride being Miss Brooks. They are now living on the homestead.

—On Thursday, Messrs. Harris, Beer, Bruce and Carson, of the Moosomin Rifle Association, left for Regina to compete in the rifle matches.

—Mr. Thos. Beer and David Smith are canvassing the town to see if the citizens will offer the necessary inducements to Villiers, the war artist, to lecture here on his return from the west.

—On Friday afternoon, a horse and buggy owned by Mr. Marshall Smith, bolted down Main street and overturned opposite Ingalls' Livery stable. Very fortunately the occupants, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Crisp, escaped injury.

—As our water supply is very limited, it would be a serious mistake if a fire broke out in the heart of the town. As our energetic council have tried every means to get the boeing machine here and have failed, it is very hard to know what to suggest, but something ought to be done very soon.

—On Sunday night about 7:30 a fire broke out in the stable in rear of Major Phipps residence. It being impossible to save the stable, every attention was given to the house, wet blankets being spread on the kitchen roof, which materially aided in saving it from what appeared at one time certain cremation.

REGINA.

—The brick work on the public school building is about completed, and the new Lansdowne is being rapidly pushed ahead now.

—Broad street is pulling up itself in the building line. McCurdy's new stone building is well under way; the old portion has been entirely gone over and re-modelled.

—Inspector Grover paid an official visit to these parts last week and expressed himself as well pleased with the state of affairs as found here.

—Some of our citizens went to Indian Head Fair and saw His Excellency and lady. Some of them took prizes at the fair; some for citrons, some for potatoes and some for stock.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

—In the score of the Mowat match Griffith, twelfth man, was scored out. Denistaing second place with seventy-five. This morning the match for the Lieut. Governor's cup was shot for. There were forty-seven entries. The secretary's tent was blown down with the wind, and the scores are considered excellent taking the wind into account. The cup goes to either Fleming, of Prince Albert or Abbey, of Moosejaw, a protest being entered against Fleming's score. The other winners are Major Bell, Carruthers, Sweet, Harrin, Gordon, Connor, Steele, St. George, Stewart and Wiltonby. The teams will be photographed this afternoon and will be reproduced in "Canada Illustrated." In the afternoon the bell rifle matches were shot for the trophy to be presented by Major Bell. Sgt. Gordon of Prince Albert captured it with 80 points, range 200, 500 and 600 yards seven shots. There were 47 entries. The other prize winners were: Major Bell, 70; E. A. Griffith, 98; Major Stewart, of Ottawa, 67; Sgt. Montgomery, 67; Corp. St. George, 64; W. Bruce, of Moosomin, 64; J. T. Simshorn, 62; Const. Hall, 62; L. Alvey, 62; H. A. Carruthers, 62; Const. Drake, 60.

—In the extra series, three shots at 500 yards, A. B. Doumet took with 11, Corp. Bailey made 11 and Sgt. Gor on 10. In five shots at 400 yards, W. M. Williamson made 22, Capt. Harris 20 and Corp. Bird 19.

—The wind was dead against the marksmen, and this will account for some poor scores. The secretary's tent was twice blown down during the afternoon.

—The scenes of the Great Telegraphic match have been received. Twenty men competed for each team at two, five and six hundred yards, 7 shots. Regina scored a total of 1106.

LANGENBURG.

—Oto Berg announces that he has started butchering here.

—Tenders for building the school house were examined on Monday, 7 h inst.

—Mr. Riedle says that with authority from our M. L. A., he will commence work on a road to extend across this town if this fall.

—Mr. Riedle reports constant additions to the Bavarian colony. He has got into harness as a J. P., and is making those that have a special fondness for setting out prairie fires, tremble. One poor victim was hauled over the coals. Another poor victim who has more love for chicken shooting than for game laws, will suffer for his weakness before this appears in print.

GRENFELL.

Several threshing machines are at work throughout the country, but grain has as yet been marketed.

The "Grenfell bounds" held their first meeting last Friday and had a most successful run, getting two foxes after an exciting chase.

A considerable amount of building has been in progress, including a very substantial school house, and stores and dwelling houses, now in course of erection.

Mr. R. Hillhouse, of New Sundrum farm, shipp'd near the finest steers yet seen in this district, and Mr. N. Hobson also disposed of a prime carload of beef animals.

Grenfell district is rapidly becoming noted for stock raising. Several cars have already been shipped this season, and on Friday two cars of beef cattle were loaded for Regina.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Offensive partizanship is the arge brought against Rev. Dr. Sutherland, the honored leader of the Third Party, by several Grit newspapers. It is not necessary to say a word in defence of the Doctor. As a party leader he is clearly a partisan, and that his course is offensive to the other parties is evidence that he is gitting in his work. An inoffensive partisan would be a very poor sort of a leader. Grip is pleased to learn that the old party organs do not like Dr. Sutherland's methods and advise him to stick to his preaching. It is always a good rule in politics to find out what your antagonists want you to do and then do precisely the opposite—and no doubt the doctor will take note of the disinterested advice tendered him and govern himself contrariwise. The head and front of Dr. Sutherland's offending is that in addition to being an offensive patizan, he is a clergyman, and as such occupies an important representative position. Therefore, argue his critics, he ought to eschew political prominence, or it may interfere with his usefulness in other directions. We freely admit that were he to descend to the unworthy methods which have characterized the management of the Grit and Tory parties, it would be a very serious blow to his ministerial influence, but it is begging the question to assume at the outset that a party expressly formed in order to purify the political atmosphere from the abuses created by the corruption, self-seeking and insincerity of the rotten old parties, must necessarily fail to their level. The Grit organs shouldn't measure other people's corn in their bushel. The funny part of the business is that these same papers are always ready to applaud to the echo any preacher who has a word to say on their side. They can, in such cases, wax eloquent over the faithfulness and earnestness of the clergy in testifying against public iniquity, and pooh-pooh as an antiquated and exploded notion the idea that a minister has no business to meddle with politics.—Grip.

Toronto Mail: Hudson's Bay is the hunting ground of numerous American whalers and sealers. The whales are plentiful and are easily caught. Nine of them fill a three hundred ton sloop. It is in the spring that the seals are captured. In order to get them some of the Americans winter at Marble Island, an island situated well within our district of Keewatin. Canadians will not grudge the Americans a few whales or seals. But really, if Behring's Sea is a close sea how can Hudson's Bay be open.

Canadian and American capitalists have applied to the Canadian Parliament for a charter for a railroad from the Canadian Soo to Hudson's Bay. Recent discoveries of coal have been made on the Moose River, about 260 miles north of the Soo, by the stipendiary magistrate of that district, and some of it has been brought down to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., for examination, creating no little interest in that unfamiliar land and exciting considerable comment. The road will be 370 miles in length, and will cross the main line of the Canadian Pacific at Windmore, 167 miles due north of the Soo. The country is said to be rich in pine and minerals. The idea of the men interested is to open up this country and to build to Hudson's Bay with a view to making a European route through the Hudson's Bay Straits. The Dominion Government will be asked for aid, and a surveying party will start out from Sault Ste. Marie January 1st, under direction of Joseph Fournier, a well-known Canadian engineer. The Soo will give the Canadian Pacific a outlet to the water.

Several persons have been arrested for complicity in the burning of the Temple of Heaven at Pekin. The fire was part of a conspiracy against the introduction of railways in China and intended to convey the idea that the destruction of the Temple was an offence of war against the innovation.

Montreal Witness: The success with which the United States Government has revived piracy upon the high seas has apparently had the effect of inspiring certain descendants of the greatest of the pirates of old with the idea of reviving the industry of their fathers. A Spanish vessel has been captured by a band of Riff pirates, and 6 of her crew have been carried off into slavery. One hundred and fifty years ago such actions as this were as common as collisions at sea are now, and the name of the Riff pirates were as terrible to underwriters as icebergs or fogs are in these days. Will the Riff pirates be treated with as much forbearance as the United States Government pirates by the Great Powers? If not; why not?

By-stander has been revived by Goldwin Smith. On the French Manitoba question it says: In Manitoba the French have ceased to hold the balance of power, there being no balance of power to hold, and they can no longer play the game of hovering between the parties and compelling both to obey their will. To complete their misfortunes it appears that at a critical moment they have encountered a strong arm against the dual language. The blow has already been struck and war has been declared against the separate schools. Put to abolish separate schools the Manitoba Act must be amended. The only other course at least is the awkward one of stopping the grant to the schools, and the question is thus likely to come before the Dominion Parliament, to test the zeal of the Liberals for local liberties and the power of adhering to principle in defiance of the Catholic vote.

Since the world began to put on record its great disasters, the terrible revolt of nature against man who would master her, there has been few if any such woeful horrors as the Johnstown flood. Ten thousand or more people were drowned, and nearly three times the number were heart-broken and suddenly left of their means of support. It is important to have such a narrative as this given to the world in a permanent record, which is accurate as well as graphic. The last book on the subject, entitled "The Johnstown Flood," published by H. S. Goodspeed & Co., tells its story with wonderful force. The author, we are told, spent considerable time at the ruined city and gathered his facts at first hand, having made a careful personal study of the situation and all the circumstances involved in the catastrophe. To tell such a story accurately as well as dramatically involves a personal visitation and a continued study of all the facts on the ground itself. This the writer did, and as a consequence his narrative has a dramatic force and a life likeliness which will thrill every reader. Enough time has elapsed since the flood to allow the genuine truth to be sifted out and settle down from the first and crude accounts of the great event, which were necessarily hurried and inaccurate. To be sure nothing could well surpass the awful reality, but much was sent and written at first, which was not strictly true, and again much has been added not at first fully known to even the most anxious investigator. The author has evidently taken much pains to do justice to his difficult task, and to give the world a strictly veracious as well as a moving story of the death and ruin so swiftly precipitated on an unsuspecting and happy community.

The pirates of the Behring Sea have not been able to prevent the British Columbian sealers from reaping some part of least of the seal harvest, for 4,750 seal skins, worth $36,000, have recently been shipped from Victoria to London via Montreal.

PEACE RIVER.

—The drought that has been so characteristic of this summer has not been by any means local. The Edmonton Bulletin says the summer was very dry in Peace River, and against the growth of crop. There had been frost injuring the crop everywhere but at Dunvegan. Rev. Mr. Brick's crop, although well put in on sod, is very poor owing to the drought, but is not much injured by frost. Potatoes were doing very well. The woods were being destroyed along the south side of the Peace River by the fires which have never ceased all summer. The fires have driven out the game and destroyed the berries, which are an important source of food supply to the Indians both in summer and winter, so that there is likely to be more hunger than ever this winter. Unless rain falls the fires will be still more destructive before winter sets in. The Beaver Indians—the natives of the country, a branch of the Chippewayans, and of whom the Sarcees are a branch, are dying out very fast, but the Crees, who are coming in from Lesser Slave Lake and Edmonton, are increasing.—Saskatchewan Herald.

The general elections in Brazil have been held and the Liberals have been successful, thus ensuring the complete execution of the policy of freeing the slaves. This policy was inaugurated during the Emperor Dom Pedro's absence with the approval and assistance of his daughter, and the Emperor has since his return given it his support, and in the election just held was classed as a Liberal. Such Emperors as Dom Pedro are of more assistance to the cause of progress than many Presidents elected by party machines powerless to carry out their own policies.

Word from British Columbia states that the U. S. cutter "Rush," which has gained such notoriety this season in connection with the seizure of Canadian sealers in Behring Sea will shortly leave Sitka for the south, calling on her way down at Victoria. It is feared that owing to the indignation which exists against the officers and the crew of the cutter and the crews of the seized vessels, and their friends over the confiscation of their summer's work, serious trouble may arise, as they are determined they say to avenge their wrongs in this way, if the British Government is going to deny them protection. It is stated that it will give the local authorities all they can do to prevent a conflict. The militia force stationed at Victoria is to be held in readiness to quell any disturbance.

The report of the accident on the Central-Hudson has been confirmed. As near as can be learned, the accident occurred two miles east of Palantine bridge. The train ran into the first section of No. 5, which leaves New York at 6 p.m., arriving here at 9:50 p.m., followed by a second section. The first section of the train is usually made up of two ordinary coaches, two parlor cars and three baggage cars while the second section seldom goes out with less than seven sleepers. A dining car serves dinner on the second section to A ban, where it is dropped. This train travels over the Michigan Central via Niagara Falls. It is a favorite with travellers on the Central, and the second section is entirely vestibule cars and the schedule of running is very fast. Four bodies have been taken from the wreck, and it is feared that at least twenty-five lives have been lost. The accident was caused by the negligence of the flagman.

Prince Albert is to extend his Indian tour to Burma.

The Queen is enjoying the cold weather in Scotland, and takes long drives in the vicinity of Balmoral.

The pirates of the Behring Sea have not been able to prevent the British Columbian sealers from reaping some part of least of the seal harvest, for 4,750 seal skins, worth $36,000, have recently been shipped from Victoria to London via Montreal.

DENNIS SOLID FOR EQUAL RIGHTS.

The agony is over, Hon. D. McLean has been elected by acclamation and all parties, almost without exception, seem to be well satisfied with the way the contest in Dennis ended. Campion entered upon the campaign hopefully, he carried his canvass on with vigor, but when he found, after a personal canvass, that the cause was hopeless at the present time, in the face of the question before the people, he withdrew from the contest. Mr. Campion's actions right through have been honorable, and he retires from the field beaten but not disgraced. It would have been far better for all parties had the contest not been entered upon at all, but the next best thing to do was to give the struggle up when it was apparent to all that dire defeat awaited the Conservative nominee. The live questions before the electors were "Dual Language" and "Separate Schools" as stated by us at the outset, and without a doubt, it was the firm stand taken by the Orangemen of Dennis at this time that influenced the Conservative candidate to take the course he did at the last. This contest should be a warning to politicians throughout the Dominion, for, as the 150 Orangemen of Dennis (mostly Conservative) threw party aside and worked tooth and nail for the government candidate when their principles called for it, so the 200,000 Orangemen of the Dominion will act when the hour comes for them to choose between party and principle. The Orangemen of Dennis have been put to the test and have not been found wanting when the hour for decision arrived.—Virden Advance.

The Province of Quebec is what may be termed "hard up." Its current provincial revenue has been spent, and the running expenses are now met by the issue of notes. The other day the Attorney-General, with the liberality that should mark the true statesman, gave $300 on behalf of the province to augment the prize money offered for horseracing at one of the shows. The contribution was in the form of a letter of credit, or note, payable twelve months hence. No bank would accept the paper, but a private citizen came to the rescue and cashed it at a discount of twenty-four dollars.—Mail.

Russian engineers are about to make an examination of the Canadian Pacific railway with a view to repairing it in Siberia. It is thought that a Siberian railway from the terminus of the Russian system in Europe to the Pacific will promote settlement and evolve fruitful fields out of the barren steppes. If the Russians carry out their project they will certainly have the advantage of us in the matter of securing colonists. They have but to arrest citizens and ship them to the Siberian settlement, whereas we have to wait for volunteers for our land of promise.

The St. John Sun, the Conservative organ in New Brunswick, encourages the Manitobans to proceed with the Separate school and dual language reforms. It says:—"The people of Manitoba have a serious problem to solve. If not faced now it will come up later, for the present system will be reduced to absurdity by the time the province will assuredly in due time assert its right to deal with the question." From this it may be at least hoped that the Maritime Conservatives will not help to deprive the West of the right to legislate for itself.

At an early hour on the morning of the 2nd inst., a large piece of rock became detached from the face of the cliff in Quebec, near the location of the recent disaster. A building was wrecked but no lives were lost.

The United States Treasury Department has ordered the collection of duties on stage scenery and costumes, heretofore admitted free as tools of trade.

A proclamation has been issued to the Orangemen of Ottawa valley and surrounding counties in connection with the celebration here of the Gunpowder Plot on the 5th of November. It deals severely with both sides of politicians and asks Orangemen to cast politics aside.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

The following is a resume of the laws in force regarding the receiving of newspapers:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered willing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order a discontinuance of their periodicals, the publishers may continue to send them until arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect to take the periodicals from the office, to which they are directed, they are responsible till they have settled up their bill and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they shall be responsible.

5. If subscribers have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of their time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is obliged to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrears, is sent to the publisher.

The law is the same in each state that newspaper publishers can arrest anyone for freedom who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it.

Under this law the man who allows his subscriber to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "Refused," and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine, same as for theft.

HTEROYAL TEMPLARS OF TEMPERANCE.

A Christian Temperance and Prohibition society, with its doors wide open to every man and woman desiring to unite in the effort to combat the great evil of intemperance, teaching also that total abstainers are less liable to sickness and accident, live longer than non-abstainers, and suffer injustice when classified with such inferior risks in insurance companies or benefit societies.

ITS OBJECTS ARE.

1. To teach that intemperance and all that produces or sustains it should be regarded as a curse to overthrow the traffic in strong drink.

2. To educate the young in temperance principals and to reform and strengthen the fallen.

3. To improve the moral, intellectual, and physical condition of its members.

4. To teach its members to be industrious and provident.

5. To furnish medical attendance and care for sick members; to afford necessary aid to disabled members, give respectable burial to the dead, and provide for widow, orphans or friends left behind.

Sunday School Lessons.

In this country where settlement is scattered and may have not frequent opportunities of attending public worship, our Bible Lessons will be a great help to the study of one set portion of Scripture for each Sunday. The head of the family should collect its members, if possible, in his room, if possible, bring some hymn and other prayer, then recite the portion of Scripture set for the day, take up each case and try to induce each member of the family to talk about it and ask questions. The comments on the lesson we give will help to make the study interesting and be valuable to aid in answering questions. This should not, however, be allowed to interfere with opportunities to attend to preaching service as frequently as possible. To the regular Sunday school teacher and seminar our Bible study column commends itself by experience.

THANKSGIVING OF DAVID.

LESSON III, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 20.

Text of the Lesson, II Sam. vii, 15-28—Commit Verse 26, 29—Golden Text, I Thess. v, 16—Commentary by the Rev. Dr. M. Stearns.

(Compiled from Lesson Helper Quarterly by permission of H. S. Hoffman, publisher, Philadelphia.)

18. "Then went King David in, and sat before the Lord." The word "then" takes us back to the first verses of this chapter, where we read that the Lord having given David rest round about from all his enemies his thoughts turn to the Ark of God dwelling within curtains, while he dwells in a house of cedar, though Nathan rebuked him in his purpose to build a house for the Ark; this leads to a message from the Lord to David, in which he is told that not he but his son shall build the house, and that through this son David's house and kingdom and throne shall be established (v. 10), made sure for ever. So, with the assurance from God of a wonderful Son and an eternal kingdom, David sits before the Lord and says, "Who am I, O Lord God? and what is my house that Thou hast chosen for me?"

19. "Then hast spoken also of thy servants' house for a great while to come." Not only was David amazed at the past goodness of God to him in taking him from the sheep-cote and from following the sheep to be the ruler over God's people Israel (v. viii), but he was overwhelmed by the revelation now made to him of the future glory and stability of his house and kingdom. "And is this the manner of man, O Lord God?" There is a direct reference here to Solomon in this description of the Ark, and a clear indirect reference to the Son of David (Matt. i, 1; xxii, 42), the Son whom Gabriel said: "The Lord God shall give unto Him the throne of His father David, and He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of His kingdom there shall be no end" (Luke i, 32, 33).

Our lesson today is undoubtedly concerning that covenant which Isaiah calls: "The surety of all flesh," and which Paul tells us shall be fulfilled only in the resurrection (Isa. lv, 3; Acts xiii, 31).

20. "And what can David say more unto Thee, Lord God, knowest Thy servant." Inasmuch as God knew all about David before ever He began to lead him out, he felt that there was nothing more for him to say.

21. "For Thy Word's sake, and according to Thy promise, I will do all these great things to meet Thy servants' needs." In Exodus xxxvii, 22-23, speaking of this very kingdom when Israel shall be restored and cleansed from all their sins, the Lord says that He will do it, not for their sakes, but for His Holy Name's sake. When we remember that one of the precious names of Jesus, Son of David, is "The Word of God" (John i, 1; Rev. xix, 13), then we understand why "for Jesus' sake" He will accomplish all things connected with his elect church, and His election Israel, according to the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Eph. iii, 11).

22. "Wherefore, Thou art great, O Lord God, for there is none like Thee." "Who is like unto Thee, O Lord, among the gods?" sang Moses after the Egyptians had been overthrown in the Red sea (Ex. xv, 10). "There is none like unto Thee, O Lord, Thou art great, and Thy name is great in might," says Jehovah, when He talks of the True and Living God, king of nations, king of strength (Jer. x, 6-10).

23. "And what one nation in the earth is like Thy people, even like Israel, • • • which Thou redeemest to Thee from Egypt, from the nations and their gods?" Indeed alone of all the nations was thus honored of God, and surely He had a right to expect from them great things in the way of obedience, in return for the great things which He had done for them. The church of Christ, composed of believers gathered out of many nations, has the right to expect from her precious blood that she may make Him a name on the earth, and He has a right to expect from every one that redounds a holy life and a whole hearted devotion to Himself in His present great work of preaching the Gospel to every creature.

24. "Then hast confirmed to thyself thy people Israel to be a people unto thee forever, and thou Lord art become their God." "I know that whatsoever God doth, it shall be forever" (Psa. lxx, 14). The sun, moon and stars as we look upon them in the heavens are a sign to us that Israel shall never cease to be a nation before God.

25. "And now, O Lord God, • • • do as Thou hast said." David follows up his heartfelt thanksgiving by placing himself entirely in the will of God and at His disposal, like Mary when she said: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to Thy word" (Luke i, 38).

26. "So then, Thee seems to be magnified for ever." David sees his own glory not in the glory of Israel, but that through him or his house or his people the name of Jehovah may be magnified. In Ps. xlv, 30, he says, "I will magnify Him with thanksgiving" and that is what he is doing in this lesson. Hear him repeatedly saying, "Let the Lord be magnified" (Psa. lxx, 27; xl, 16, lxx, 4), calling upon the people to magnify the Lord with him and exalt His name together (Psa. xlv, 6).

27. "For Thou, O Lord of Hosts, God of Israel, hast revealed to Thy servant, saying, I will build thee an house," and therefore David prayed this prayer. This is the right thing to do with all the revelations which God makes to us in His word concerning His great goodness towards us, and His purposes not yet fulfilled, just receive them gratefully, eat them joyfully and pray for them with expectation.

28. "And now, O Lord God, Thou art that God, and Thy words be true, and Thou hast promised this goodness unto Thy servant." He here acknowledges that he firmly believes that all God's words are true, and he simply pleads His promises. This is what we need today on the part of Christians, to lay hold of God's promises and plead them with the same confidence with which we would present a check at a bank for payment; but as the check cannot be paid till we endorse it, so we need express a promise to be fulfilled till we endorse it—the endorsement being on it as if it meant us individually.

29. "Thou, O Lord, hast spoken it, and with Thy blessing let the house of Thy servant be blessed forever." "Blessed with favor, and full with the blessing of the Lord" (Deut. xxiii, 28), who can estimate it? "A blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive" (Mal. iii, 10), why should we not only let us fulfill the conditions of this last one, but with the blessing of God in His time, and as to the language of Matt. v, 1—notice the conditions and fulfill them. I wish that space permitted me to notice the titles of God in this lesson; let me just mention them, and may some student seek them out and feed upon them. Jehovah by itself, twice; Jehovah Elohim, twice; Jehovah Tsebaoth, twice; Adonai Jehovah, six times; Elohim, by itself, six times; the name of God eighteen times in this lesson under five different titles and each full of significance.

SALT COATS.

C. E. Cumming has returned from Ontario and resumes his school work tomorrow.

Miss Hodnett has resigned her position as teacher of the Graham school and has gone to her home in Botle.

Ex-Alderman John T. Moore, of Toronto, president of the Saskatchewan Land Co., is in town en route to the Crescent Lake.

J. R. Williams, relieving agent on the M. & N. W. railway, is officiating agent here until the appointment of a successor to Mr. McCready.

Rev. Isaac McDonald, erstwhile missionary to the Crofters here, left on the 30th ult. for Scotland, where he will further pursue his theological studies.

We report the loss of our popular station agent, Mr. F. C. McCready, who has been transferred to Portage la Prairie. During their sojourn here Mr. and Mrs. McCready made many warm friends, who wish them well in their new home.

Mr. D. W. Hall, a farmer living about fourteen miles from here died Friday evening of typhoid fever with complications. Deceased was a bachelor and his relatives are all in England. The doctor spoke very highly of the care and attention shown toward deceased by his neighbors during his illness.

The people of Saltcoats, in the "Garden of Eden," are not so much given to mourning as were the children of Israel during their wandering in the wilderness, but they do complain of very "High Mock-a-Muck" coming to Saltcoats to "visit the Crofters." The people of Saltcoats are not Crofters. Let them visit the Crofter Colonies near Saltcoats if they will.

INDIAN HEAD.

On the 3rd inst. the visit of Lord and Lady Stanley to the annual show of the agricultural society here, created an amount of interest never before shown on a show day. The town was decorated in honor of the visit. An arch, prettily trimmed, spanned the platform at the station, with the words "Welcome" in the center. Another double arch was built on the bridge, and was neatly trimmed with sheaves of grain and draped with colored bunting.

The entrance to the town hall was decorated with sheaves of grain and flags, the stores and hotel had flags flying, and across the street was strung different colored bunting. The interior of the town hall looked very attractive, the exhibit of the Experimental Farm and the Indian Reserve forming a fine centre to the tables, which were loaded with vegetable, etc.

which were loaded with vegetable, etc.

The Indian classes were very attractive, the time collection of over one hundred varieties of pottocks was much admired, as was also the collection of grain both in sheep and that threshed out. The new kind of Indian arrow showed well, the wheats looking especially so. The Indian classes were well represented, the quality of the grain, vegetables and roots reflection great pride on Agent Grant, who has trained the Indians in the art of grain raising and gardening. The stock yards were fully well filled.

Horses were an average show, some fine animal being shown, but some classes were not up to the usual standard, the drivers in single harness being especially poor. The sheep were fine lot. Eleven pens were shown, and the quality and quantity of sheep shown shows a marked improvement on the last show. Pigs were well represented, and the eleven pens gone through by the judges were a credit to any show. Looking at the quality of the various exhibits shown in the town hall we were not surprised that His Excellency should tell us that "they equalled any he had seen in the Dominion."

AT EVEN SONG.

Come out, the leaves are all astir
With light winds out of nowhere blowing;
Come out, dear lad, and sing to her
For whom your heart is beating,
With love and with a whole wide air.
Let me kiss thy white wide air.
The evening charms completing,
Just with her name's repeating,
Just with her name, the sweeting;
Come out, dear lad, and meet her.

Come down, fair maid, nor wail afar
The strain so faint, so slender;
Come down, the silver star
Sits in your heart, like a jewel;
While night moths round you hover,
Nor stirring leaves nor singing tones
Can any measure render.
The sweet at love's command,
So sweet as love, to render.
Come, maid, and meet your lover.
Harriet Prescott Spofford in Harper's Bazar.

MEHALAH.

"Look you here, Glory! the moon is full, and that always makes him madder. I have to keep him short of food, and strap his shoulders, or he would tear the walls down in his fury."

"I can't attend to him," asked Mehalah.

"You'd be afraid of him."

"I should pity him," said the girl. "He and I are both tortured, both your victims, both prisoners, wearing your chains."

"You have no chains round you, Glory."

"Have I not? I have, invisible, maybe, but firmer, colder, more given to rusting and rub the flesh than those caused by that power which has tried to break away, poor I cannot. You draw me back."

"I told you I could. I have threads to every finger. I can move you as I will. I can bring you into my arms."

"That—never. You may boast of your power over me. You have a power over me, but that power has its limits. I submit now, but only for my mother's sake. Were we not dependent wholly on me, were she not dead, would you be free, and free as the gull yourself?"

Elijah put his hand inside his door, drew out his gun, and in a moment the gun was seen to fall.

"She is not dead," said Mehalah, with a gleam of triumph in her face.

"No, but winged. The wretched will flutter along disabled. She will try to rise, and each effort will give her mortal agony and fit the scattered bones together and make the blood bleed away. She will skin a little while above the water, but at length will fall into the waves and be washed ashore dead."

"Will you let me attend to your brother?"

"No, I will not."

The shutter was dashed off its hinges, flung out into the yard, and the two gladly hands were again seen strained through the bars. Again the sun went out in the gathering night the answering, "Glory! Glory! Glory!"

"By God, you bound?" yelled Elijah, and raised his whip to bring it down on the white wrists.

"Leave her bare! It will not endure it!" cried Mehalah, and she arrested the blow. She caught the whip and wrenched it out of the hand of Elijah before he could recover from his surprise, and flung it into the dark tunnel.

"You are still—servant!" cried Elijah. "What are you in this house? A servant? Then speak and act as one!"

A hard expression settled on Mehalah's brow.

"Do what you will with that brother of yours. I am indifferent to him and to his fate. Everything in the world is all one to me now. If you had let me think for the moment that you loved him, and attend to him, I might have been compelled to do it. Now, I could at least have comforted myself with the thought that I was interfering to the welfare of one unhappy wretch and lightning his lot. But now," she shrugged her shoulders. "Now everything is all one to me. I can laugh," she did so harshly. "There is nothing in the world that I care for now, except my mother, and I do not know that I care very much for her now. I feel as if that no heart, or that mine were from the beginning."

"You do not care now for your mother?" exclaimed Elijah. "Then leave her here to my tender mercy, and go out into the world and seek your fortune. Go on the trumpet like your kingly ancestry."

"Leave my mother to your mercy!" echoed Mehalah. "To the memory of you, who could cut your poor crazed brother over the fingers with a sharp knife, and then, when you have stoned and stabbled me, when you have professed to love, as I would not trust a marsh flower. Never. Though my heart may be stammered or dead, yet I have sufficient instinct to stand by and protect her who brought me into the world and nursed me when I was helpless. As for you, I do not hate you, but I am not fond of you."

You are not being honest to me," he said.

Mehalah stood back towards the Ray.

There, just outside the marsh, was a very white, tall paper daffodil, and, looking at the moonlight, what could it be? It moved a little way, then blew up and fell and disappeared. Was it a sheet of paper? It was now certain it had to be swept away by the rising wind. No, it was not sheet of paper. Mehalah's curiosity was roused. She took the window and looked out. At the same time, another daffodil, which had also moved a little way, then blew up and fell and disappeared. Was it a sheet of paper? It was now certain it had to be swept away by the rising wind. No, it was not sheet of paper.

Little Local Links in the Town's Chain of History.

QU'APPELLE.

Fine weather.
Indian summer.
Should not the fire break round
the town be re-ploughed?

The Northwest Legislative Assembly will meet on Tuesday next.

A number of our citizens attended the agricultural show at the Fair on Tuesday.

Rev. Alexander Robson will hold service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening next at 11 o'clock.

The Presbyterian social and entertainment was in progress last evening as we went to press. It was very successful.

Owing to the crowd on our space by agricultural show prize lists, we have to hold over some local and other matter till next week.

Mr. R. G. Brown, of St. Paul,
General Manager of the Minnesota Masonic Relief Association, is in town. He is writing a number of our local Brethren for a few thousands each.

On Wednesday morning last Corporal Purches saw a fire in a wood pile between the immigration building and the railway track, evidently started by a spark from a passing train. He succeeded in extinguishing it before any serious damage was done.

There have been three marriages in town during the past week, but though we publish these notice s free of charge, we have not had them bandied in. Would not the efficacious clergymen be conferring a favor upon those he marries by having them published.

A foot race took place here on Monday between a half-bred named Lou-tassa and a white man named Coco, which was won easily by Mr. Coco. Mr. Bourassa having fallen down at the three-quarter mile mark. The race was one of considerable money changed hands.

On Friday of last week, Mr.
G. S. Davidson, with an accident while riding, which cost him the loss of about two-thirds of his right hand. The position of his hands was such that it was a bluf with a trap, and it was when the horse had run that the trap caught his thumb and hand. The trap caught his thumb just above the knuckle, and sliced the flesh off near the bone. Medical attention was given, and in the thumb was an ingesta.

On Tuesday night or Wednesday morning last a big prairie fire was started from the C. P. R. track near McLean, and swept north to the Qu'Appelle river, doing a large amount of damage. Mr. A. Walker's stable was entirely consumed.
Mr. A. M. McLane's stable and granary containing 450 bushels of wheat belonging to Messrs. R. Johnston and Geo. Gibson were also destroyed. Mr. Bray, a new arrival from Ontario last spring, also lost his stable. No doubt other losses have been sustained of which we have not heard. The extent of the damage to growing timber in the hulls is incalculable. An effort is to be made to recover from the C.
P. R. Co. the value of the property destroyed.

On Tuesday ev'g last the annual missionary meeting of the Methodist church was held here. The attendance was not as large as might have been expected, owing perhaps to want of thorough advertising.
Still the audience was a most intelligent and appreciative one. Mr.
James Weidman had been appointed chairman by the Quarterly Board and occupied that position. The proceedings were enlivened by beautiful singing by the choir. Rev. J.
Tozeland, the pastor of the church, gave some extracts from the annual report of the missionary society, which showed the wonderful growth of the work in the Northwest. Rev.
S. E. Colwill, of Fort Qu'Appelle, delivered an excellent and appropriate address on missionary work.
Rev. J. M. Harrison, of Regina, chairman of the district, made the speech of the evening. His splendid eloquence held the audience spell-bound and elicited great applause. As a speaker Mr. Harrison is both practical and logical and he makes his points clearly and concisely. The collection taken up was large and a subscription list well started. Except in point of numbers the meeting was very successful.

The Qu'Appelle Philharmonic Society gave a very successful entertainment on Saturday evening last. The instrumental pieces were exceedingly well rendered by the Harmony. Two glee under the skilled leadership of Mr. T. A. Owen, were highly appreciated. Mr.
J. F. Guerin gave an amusing reading.
Mr. Jerrold recited well "The Fireman's wedding." Messrs. D. S.
Davies and Harold Jagger sang "Leardoor Watch" to the great pleasure of all. J. P. Jones, in the character song of "The Clonakilty Band," elicited great applause. Mrs.
G. H. V. Bulyea, who is a favorite in a Qu'Appelle audience, sang "The lords of creation" in a style appropriate to the piece. The concluding piece, the trial scene of Bardell vs. Pickwick, was excellently rendered. The performers were remarkably well chosen, and each actuated their part in a most appropriate and realistic manner. Mr. R. D.
Strong acted the part of Justice
Starlight, J. P. Jones as Sgt. Buzz Fuz, J. F. Guerin as Sergeant Smib-bins, Chas. Bailey as clerk of the Court, Harold Jagger as Mrs. Clapton, Percy Jerrold as Mr. Winkle, D. Davies as Sam Weller, and L. J.
St. Louis as foreman of the jury.
The place was filled to the door by an appreciative audience, and the proceeds were without doubt satisfactory to the Harmony, who may be congratulated on the success of their entertainment.

A FACT WORTH REMEM- BERING.

Mr. Joe Bumie, of Tasouie, states that his little boy when three months old was so bad with summer complaint that under doctors' treatment he was disposed of. Four doses of Dr. Fisher's Extract of Wild Strawberry cured him.

OUR INNOCENT ABROAD.

What became of the prize citron at Indian Head.

Where did the carrots go to at the Qu'Appelle show?

Why small potatoes get the prize when very much larger ones of same name are alongside, would puzzle one to explain if he did not know how the wires are pulled.

Why do not the directors of the S. Qu'Appelle Agricultural Society take steps to prevent the destruction of exhibits at their annual show?

My little boy had diarrhoea and came very near dying. After the failure of every thing else, was used Dr.
Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry which caused a quick cure, and I know of two others who were cured by the same remedy. FREEMAN C. AMON,
